In many familiar instances it has entirely supplanted the traveling sales-man and the house-to-house canvasser; in other cases, it effectively supplements the efforts of the personal salesman by introductory letters and follow-ups. The perfection of the typewriter, the dictating phonograph, and the many devices for imitating typewritten letters, has made the letter at once the greatest time- and labor-saver, and the greatest business-getter, of this age of trade and industry. In consequence, a practical knowledge of correct business letter writing is a distinct and valuable business asset. A business firm is judged as much by its letters as by its clerks and salesmen. A slovenly letter is as offensive as a slovenly clerk; a discourteous letter is as objectionable, an inaccurate or ambiguous letter as dangerous, as though its statements were made orally by an employe or member of the firm. Indeed,...
