Non-Euclidean Geometry: A Critical and Historical Study of Its Development (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Roberto Bonola

Forgotten Books, United States, 2016. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 224 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Non-Euclidean Geometry: A Critical and Historical Study of Its Development The translator of this little volume has done me the honour to ask me to write a few lines of introduction. And I do this willingly, not only that I may render homage to the memory of a friend, prematurely torn from life and from science, but also because I am convinced that the work of Roberto Bonola deserves all the interest of the studious. In it, in fact, the young mathematician will find not only a clear exposition of the principles of a theory now classical, but also a critical account of the developments which led to the foundation of the theory in question. It seems to me that this account, although concerned with a particular field only, might well serve as a model for a history of science, in respect of its accuracy and its breadth of information, and, above all, the sound philosophic spirit that permeates it. The various attempts of successive writers are all duly rated according to their relative importance,...
