As our aim is to discover deviations from the average surface density we shall assume that the disc is of this density; now the ratio of surface to mean density is and the attraction of an infinite disc of thickness A on a point at the centre of its upper surface is $G \frac{2}{3} \pi A h$. attraction of disc $2 \pi h$, h Hence---. $t \rightarrow$, $--4=$ attraction of sphere $f n K 4K$ Therefore taking in account both the increased distance from the centre of the sphere, and the intervening matter we have Thirdly, if the station is situated on a mountain or in a valley, so that there is much deviation from an infinite plain, Orographical correction. a correction sometimes called the topographical, but perhaps preferable the orographical correction must be applied.
