2012. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. 264 The book consists of articles on Development and Social Change in the contemporary context with detailed discussions on various issues involved. The issues range from upliftment of women, children and weaker-sections in the society to environmental challengers such as disaster management and global warming scenario. It is educative and enlightening as the author analysed issues from a socio-legal perspective and makes objective recommendations on each topic. The book will be an excellent aid for understanding constitutional issues involved in legislations for social justice, empowerment of women and protection of child rights in the country. The ubiquitous presence of politics and vested interests that effect the priorities and schemes of the state was critically analyzed by the author. The areas of focus for a concerted positive action were highlighted in all these articles.
